FORCES ARE READY FOR BIG BOND DRIVE

SIXTH DISTRICT ORGANIZED FOR THIRD LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGN.

FIELD FORCE IS NOW BUSY

Educational Work Awakens People
To Dangers Facing
Nation

Atlanta. — With the Third Liberty Loan campaign approaching, every effort is being exerted by the sixth Federal Reserve District Executive Committee to complete the organization of every county. For two months a force of forty field representatives has been paving the way for the loan with a great educational campaign. Committees have been re-organized and everything is in readiness for the drive which is expected to begin early in April.

The reports from field representatives on the organization work have been very encouraging to the executive committee. It is realized, however, that it will take the combined efforts of the bankers, manufacturers, merchants and farmers to put the Sixth District "over the top" in this campaign. The minimum allotment for this district in the second campaign was over-subscribed, but it will take harder work to make the Third Liberty Loan a success.

Committees Organized
The central organization will be the same as in the previous campaign, M. B. Wellborn, chairman of the board of the Federal Reserve Bank being chairman. W. C. Wardlaw is chairman of the executive committee. St. Elmo Massengale again will direct the publicity campaign, W. J. Rudland, an experienced sales manager, has been placed in charge of the field force.

Money Needed
It has been repeatedly pointed out by Government officials that the result of the world conflict depends very largely upon the success of the successive bond issues. The full force of America, in resources, men and money, must be hurled against the Hun to crush the military ambitions of Germany and make the world safe from the menace of Prussian autocrats. This cannot be accomplished unless the government is given the use of every dollar needed to furnish supplies and ammunition for the army which is being sent to France.

Money is not taken from circulation when invested in Liberty Bonds. It is spent right here at home in the purchase of supplies and furnishes employment to those engaged in work on government contracts. The expenditure of these great sums of money has made this section of the country prosperous. The war is responsible for the high prices farmers are receiving for their products. The wheels of the great industries have been kept busy and the wage earners are drawing high salaries.

Whether the next bond issue is a success will depend upon the effort of every individual in the district. The money cannot be raised without personal sacrifice. The Government appeals to every individual to invest to the extent of his ability.

DESTROY LARGE STILL AT MONTEAGLE

Officers Wait in Vain for Return of Moonshiners.

Tracy City, Tenn., March 16. — S. T. Hoyt and W. W. Pitts, deputy marshals, accompanied by E. W. Hamby, sheriff, located a wildcat distillery a few days ago about three miles southeast of Monteagle, near the line between Marion and Grundy counties. No one was at the still and they allowed it to remain intact until this afternoon when they returned and destroyed the plant and poured out about 400 gallons of beer.

The still was of 50 gallon capacity, and the beer was just about ready to begin to work. Sheriff Hamby brought the worm to Tracy City, after it was cut up, the remainder of the outfit being destroyed and left in woods. The distillery was cleverly located under the bluff of the mountain in a secluded section of the country.

SUNNYSIDE MINSTRELS GIVE INITIAL SHOW

The Sunnyside Minstrels of South Pittsburg, under the management of Loyd B. Holder, gave their initial performance at the Town Hall Friday night. The boys, who are all young performers, had had only two rehearsals together before putting on their performance, and did very well. They were hampered somewhat by the lack of piano accompaniment for their songs, having no one with them who had practiced with them, but still the songs were interesting. The work of Raymond Pryor, a boy soprano of excellent voice, was a feature. Virgil Padgett and Oscar Knight were the end men. Their work was good, and they put up some very funny stunts. Loyd Holder was a good interlocutor.

The boys propose to return to this city on May 30th with a western play, Manager Holder contemplating putting on one. There is lots of talent in the company, and if they will stick together for a few years will be hard to beat.

The company is composed of Virgil Padgett and Oscar Knight, end men; Crockett Janey, Claud Smith, Bob Knight, Albert Raulston, Alton Janey and Raymond Pryor, middle men, and Loyd Holder, interlocutor.

There was a fairly good house present, and the gross receipts were $12.60, of which one-half went to the Hall, a fund now being raised for the purpose of re-shingling the building, and the other half to the minstrels. It was the intention of the company to arrive here early enough to have a rehearsal before the performance but unfortunately Manager Holder's car was run into by a car driven by Fayt Nelson while rounding a curve near South Pittsburg and was so badly damaged that it was necessary to get another car. The delay knocked out the rehearsal and prevented a much better performance.

To the Democrats of Marion:
You are hereby called to meet in mass convention at the court house in Jasper, Saturday, March 30, at 1:00 p. m., for the purpose of electing a chairman and secretary, selecting an executive committee, and to transact such other business as may come before said convention. All democrats in the county who can possibly do so are earnestly requested to be present. This meeting is a very important one as the manner of nominating all candidates for the county offices will be determined. All county and judicial offices are to be filled in the August election.

BOY SCOUTS TO FORM CAMP

A movement is on foot to organize a camp of Boy Scouts here. Citizens are heartily in favor of the movement, and will back the boys up in their undertaking. The matter is being taken up with the headquarters of the organization by Rev. E. R. Lewis, pastor of the M. E. Church, So., who is greatly interested in matters pertaining to the training of the youth.

Dallas, Texas.

Special to the News.

Esteemed editor, we are having summertime weather in Texas now. Everything is growing nicely. Lots of spring vegetables are on the market, and strawberries are beginning to show up at $1.00 to $1.75 per box of about two mouthfuls to the box. Just imagine one who has been eating bran, cotton seed meal and all other kinds of junk, then go and get a box of strawberries at $1.00 per box. He should be shot in the face with a bag of ground pepper.

To look at the beautiful sunshine and things growing, flowers blooming, it looks as if we should be happy, but the great shadow of war hanging over us saddens our hearts until we cannot appreciate the beauties of springtime. All American people are burdened with the sorrows of our boys in the foreign battlefield. It makes me tired to hear those high up in the service come around telling what will have to be done to win the war. They sit back and hide behind their salaries and tell others what to do, but they live on the best the country has, and don't try to do anything themselves to help win the war, except draw big salaries and blow hard. I know that it takes time to accomplish great things, but without an effort it will take longer. It will take hard fighting and great loss to do what has to be done, but if we all realize that it is what we will have to do, why not do it, the sooner the easier. Maybe I am just a little impatient. I am so anxious for the U. S. to come out victorious and get credit for all they do in fighting and other assistance. Therefore, I may be a little radical on some things.

I was a little disappointed in not seeing a letter from Miss "Peggie", of Ringgold, Ga., in the last paper. I thought she was going to write some interesting pieces.

I must congratulate my cousin, "Bright Star," on the first piece. Come on and be a regular bright star. May your brilliancy be the means of furnishing a good letter every week.

Hope to hear from many with good letters each week, giving the important events of your locality. As ever, Lone Star.

They were attended by Miss Leah Potter, of Rochester, N. Y., and Mr. Milo Spangler, of Sequachee, Tenn.

Mr. Ross was in the 1st draft and went into service in September, was discharged in November and returned to Norwood where he was employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross will be at home to their many friends after March 18, at their home at 2746 Norwood Ave., Norwood, Ohio.

FARMERS' RIGHTS STAKED IN WAR

"Freedom Of Seas" Will Keep European Markets Open To American Producers

Southern farmers have as much at stake in this war as any other Americans.—It is their war.

We are fighting for the "freedom of the seas"—the farmers' right to sell cotton, corn, wheat, rice, etc., abroad. The determination of the United States to send supplies and food to the Allies sent the price of cotton to 30 cents and above, and put the price of food crop up to the highest figure in fifty years.

If the Allies win this war American farmers always can find a ready market in Europe for their products. Thousands of ships are being built to send the crops abroad after the war. But we must win to do it. Germany plans to invade this country just as it overran Belgium. Evidence in the hands of government officials proves this statement. Southern farmers are enjoying the benefit of their crops now, but if Germany invades this country their wives and daughters will be forced to raise crops for Germany just as Belgian and French women and children are forced in the fields to feed the German army. Their land will be devastated just as Belgian farms have been—their land then will be used to feed Germany and their crops will bring them nothing.

Farmers Depend Upon
The government always has depended upon the Southern farmer to do his duty, whether to raise more food, fight or finance. They have been exempted from fighting thus far to enable them to raise more food, and they have received the highest prices for their products. Now the government wants the farmer to help finance the war. It is just as much his duty to help finance the war as it is to raise food.

The third Liberty Loan will soon be floated. It is the farmer's duty to invest as much money as they can in these United States government bonds. There is nothing hard to understand about a United States government bond. You merely subscribe through your banker and the government pays you interest on the investment, giving you the wealth of the whole country as security. Liberty bonds are as sound as a dollar.

K. D. CURTIS FOR REGISTRAR

"Uncle" K. D. Curtis tried his best to make Mr. Cumberland Telephone transmit a message to us last week that he wanted his announcement in the News. He failed in the effort, and consequently this epitome of wisdom and banner of brilliancy did not contain his announcement. However, "she am here" this week and will remain until August when his friends say he will stay on the same old job, to-wit: as registrar of Marion County, registering the deeds and documents of the county in the register of the county.

Mr. Curtis had the honor of defeating some mighty good men in his race for the nomination, men who are stoutly for him today for re-election, cherishing no ill-will, but realizing that a mighty good man was the winner.

The News had not the slightest idea that Mr. Curtis would get the fine vote he received in at the hands of the republicans in their primary, and he ought to feel proud of the support given him and deem it an augury of success in August.

L. P. BREWER FOR COUNTY JUDGE

L. P. Brewer announces this week that he is before the people of Marion for election as their County Judge, having received the nomination from the Republican party by a most flattering vote over a most estimable and worthy candidate. Mr. Brewer has a pretty good idea of the needs of the county, and proposes, if elected, to try to do his best in the interests of the county. He is and has been for a long time in very close touch with county affairs and will do his best to make Marion county a worthy official.

His friends are many in Marion county, and are firmly resolved to place him in the judge's seat of Marion if it can be done honorably and by fair vote in a race between honorable men.

Such is what voters are looking for today in politics, open and honest choice by the sober vote of the people.
